FAQs

1. The Iclif Leadership Energy Awards (ILEA) and Leadership Energy Summit Asia (LESA) – what’s the connection?

   The Iclif Leadership Energy Awards (ILEA) celebrate an unconventional new way of thinking about leadership. The awards draw together thought leaders in the dynamic field of leadership energy, to celebrate leaders who live the principles of conviction, courage, and momentum.

   The Leadership Energy Summit Asia (LESA) is Asia’s premier conference on leadership energy. The Summit deals exclusively with the art and science behind leadership energy, using neuroscience, spiritual philosophy, psychology and management theory. An inspiring panel of speakers from business, media, philanthropy and science share their stories of triumph over adversity and discuss what fuels their passion for positive change.

2. Who is eligible for these awards?

   We seek nominations for leaders in Asia under the following categories:

   – Young Leaders (below age 30)
   – Business Leaders
   – Societal Leaders

   These leaders should be those who have demonstrated their commitment to creating a better future through sustainable and values-driven ‘leadership energy’; and resulted in positive transformation in their team, organisation or community. Team nominations are also encouraged.

3. Who can nominate?

   Asia School of Business (ASB) accepts self-nominations and nominations by third party. However, employees of ASB, MBA students and MBA alumni may not nominate themselves or any of their immediate family members as the nominee for ILEA.

4. How are nominations submitted?

   Nominations must be received by 11.59pm (Malaysian time) on 31 July 2020. Nominations may be submitted electronically at https://iclif.org/ilea-form/ or email to ilea@asb.edu.my
